In Memoriam:

Bruce M. Weinberg

On Saturday February 5, 1994, Suffolk University Law School suffered a great loss in the death of Bruce Weinberg. Although a member of the class of 1995, Bruce started law school in the fall of 1991 with many of this year's graduates. His life, until cancer stole it from him at age 44, touched the law school community in many ways.

DEAN SUGARMAN

To the Class of 1994

Congratulations! On behalf of the academic deans, the faculty, the staff and the entire Suffolk University Law School community we express our pride in you and what you have accomplished. Your past achievements together with your devotion to the study of law are now reflected in the title of Juris Doctor, an honor which you have earned.

Congratulations are also in order for those who have given support and encouragement during the long days and nights when you worked for your degree. At times it seemed like a lonely pursuit, but without the support of your parents, spouses, children, friends and/or classmates the road would have been even more difficult. Whoever it is, and however many they are, those who helped you reach this point in your life also take pride in your accomplishments.

At Suffolk you have studied under an outstanding faculty and in the company of outstanding classmates. They make up a major part of what we proudly call the Suffolk community. As you enter your career, you will realize both the value of what you have learned here and the value of the friendships you have made. Many of these friendships will ripen yet more in the years ahead, and you will have the opportunity to reestablish others in future years at reunions of the class of 1994.

Also deserving of special acknowledgement are the students who worked to produce this excellent publication, the 1994 Suffolk University Law School Yearbook. The editors and staff have devoted numerous hours to the task of producing a yearbook worthy of the Class of 1994. Their work will remain a permanent memorial of their energy and devotion which I am sure all of you will enjoy for many years to come.

I share the confidence of the faculty that you are prepared to enter the practice of law or another career. We are also confident that you will ever after reflect credit on yourself and this Law School, and that you will continue to join with us in the pursuit of excellence. We hope you will remain active in the various activities of the Suffolk Law alumni, and welcome you back to visit with us at any time.

With great pride in all your past accomplishments I now offer you my best wishes for health, happiness and success in the future.
